Z Sport places great emphasis on protecting your privacy. The information that you provide to us is used to better the content of our web site. It is also used to gather information that can better our order processing and confirmations to help to provide a more personalized shopping experience.

Our web server will automatically recognize the IP address only for all visitors to our web site.

The email addresses of those who communicate with us via email are collected on what pages are visited by consumers as well as volunteered information by the consumer to include site registrations and site registrations.

Z Sport does not trade, rent or sell personal information, to include email addresses to third parties, although we may choose to do so later, only to those deemed trustworthy. You may request that we do not do this by submitting an email to the address listed above to include "no rent" in the subject, or in writing at the address listed above asking not to release your personal information. If more than one email address is used when shopping us, please email for both accounts.

Those who have contacted us and supplied their address, phone number and/or email information may be contacted by us regarding orders they have placed on-line.

The information we have collected may also be used to notify you of changes to the web site, new services and special offers. If you choose not to receive these notifications, please notify us by sending an email. The email should include the word "remove" in the subject.

By using our site, you agree to the collection and/or use of the information you provide to us. If changes are made to our existing privacy policy, these changes will be posted on this page to make sure all our users are informed of what information is collected, how it is used and under what special circumstances it is disclosed.
